

Tao of Equus Meets Tao of Horsemanship

A Collaborative Approach To Developing
Deeper Human-Horse Connections and Communication

Anne Clemson, Epona Approved Instructor with Equinimity LLC, and Caroline Rider, Tao of Horsemanship Practitioner with Rider Horsemanship, Inc., have joined forces to create an introductory workshop designed specifically to enhance both personal and horsemanship sensory, awareness and relationship skills.

June 6 & 7, 2009

WHERE:

Graham Equestrian Center, Glen Arm, MD

COST:

$350*/Participant

Horse experience not necessary. Schooled horses will be provided for your use.*

What You Can Expect:

-  To further develop and enhance your own leadership, relational, intuitive and emotional intelligence skills
-  To enjoy and embellish the time you spend with your horse through deeper awareness, embodiment and sensory skills
-  To develop deeper connections with your horse through understanding (and learning to read) the many subtle levels of communication your horse shares with you daily
-  To tap into your potential, and your horse's, to achieve your horsemanship goals

For more information about Caroline please visit: www.riderhorsemanship.com and Anne: www.equinimityllc.com.

To register, contact: info@riderhorsemanship.com.

