A great clinic for those seeking more mind-body connection, communication, balanced and centered riding, partnership and control with their horse!

This clinic focuses on the Tao of Horsemanship Approach to riding harmoniously with your horse.

Specific riding exercises, and patterns, are designed daily to assist in developing the following within you and your horse: mind-body awareness, acquisition of an independent seat through balance and the understanding of your center of gravity, a deeper connection, softness within, more willingness to respond to your body, rein and leg aids, and the ultimate development of consensual partnership between horse and human.
